- The Human Experience Working Group is ready to launch. This is an important success.
- Charter was posted on ToIP wiki for review and approved (Nov 11) by Steering Committee.
- The Charter includes authority to seek Steering Committee approval for an “in residence” style position to focus on diversity and inclusion.
- This will make it possible to bring voices into our community that may not currently have the means to be part of ToIP.
- As more messaging about ToIP reaches the market, and we start producing deliverables that are published externally, the value of an inclusive community will only increase.
Human Experience Working Group

The Human Experience
(working group)
The November 2020 Roadshow!
What is HXWG?
Not your leftover scrabble tiles.

- Put people at the heart of the work of ToIP using human centered design
- Develop strategic and practical resources to improve outcomes
- Develop trust-centric best practices of user experience design
- The glue between the technical and governance stacks
Got it. So how do we get started?

We’re so glad you asked!

Fill out this form!

HXWG Project Request
Anything else we should know?

Yep. You should know our guiding principles.

1. Inclusive by Design
   We will follow the principles of inclusive design to enable the ToIP community to serve the widest possible community of ecosystem partners.

2. Cross pollination in ToIP
   We will actively seek to inject human experience into ToIP Working Groups and Task Forces.

3. Respectful by Design
   We recognize that diversity of participation is not enough to give voice to minority or excluded groups. We will find ways to enable communities to own and control the design process and its outcomes.
You seem really cool. Can we join the HXWG?
Yes! Just wait until we teach you the secret handshake.

We are looking for:
- Social/research scientists
- UX/CX experts
- Marketing, CRM, communications professionals
- Members of diverse communities
- Accessibility designers
- Folks who don’t identify as “techy”
- Folks who identify as “troublemaker techies”
- Humans

If you have difficulty with digital access or a particular disability and want to join this group, please let us know as your input is critical and we will make your participation possible.
When will we hear from you again?

Be sure to submit a project by December 4!
